Made of ENGLAND

Wiltshire is rolling green downs, ancient woodlands and bustling market towns.

It's parish churches, grand historic houses and country inns. Timeless monuments and contemporary luxury. Local ales and picnics in the park.

In short, the England you love in one county. Visit Wiltshire. You'll be here in no time.

GO BACK IN TIME AND SEE THE LATEST RELEASES.

Grade 1 listed, Ye Halle of John Halle was built circa 1470 in the Tudor Gothic style, and was originally the home of a wealthy wool merchant. The mock Tudor façade was added in 1834. It became a cinema in 1937, and today has five screens. It is thought to be the oldest building in the world to permanently house a cinema.

There are plenty more stories where that came from. Isn't it about time you discovered more about Salisbury.

Troutbeck Guest House and Red Lion Freehouse

Nestled in a tiny little village lies Troutbeck Guest House and the Red Lion Freehouse, where chef-owners Guy and Brittany Manning have created a classy but cosy sanctuary for serious foodies.

For many years visitors have come from near and far to enjoy the Red Lion's Michelin-starred pub fare and friendly but proper service (also The Good Food Guide's Pub of the Year 2014 and 4th Best Pub in the UK 2016). Since December 2012 guests have also been able to retire to the charming Troutbeck Guest House – a polished riverside retreat just steps away from the pub's red doors.

With exquisite attention to detail, Troutbeck's unique bedrooms are just as beautiful as the open countryside surrounding them. Egyptian cotton linen, Bang & Olufsen entertainment, local organic toiletries and complimentary home-made snacks are just a few perks guests can enjoy on a private deck mere feet from the River Avon.

Troutbeck's list of awards also continues to grow, with 5 Yellow Stars from the AA; 5 Stars, a Gold Award and Breakfast Award from VisitEngland; Sawday's Best Pub with Rooms 2013; and the Sunday Times' Top 10 Foodie Hotels 2013. If you're treating someone to a special getaway, it's as simple as making a booking. The warm charm of the Red Lion and quiet seclusion of Troutbeck will do the rest.
