WILTSHIRE: TIMELESS WONDERS... TIMELESS PLEASURES... TIMELESS PLACES

2015 promises to be a very special year for Wiltshire as we celebrate 800 years since the signing of Magna Carta. Salisbury Cathedral is home to the best preserved original 1215 document, Trowbridge is one of the 25 Baron Towns, and exciting events marking this historic anniversary will take place around the county – see visitwiltshire.co.uk/magnacarta for details.

Wiltshire is an enchanted place where you feel close to the earth and the ever-changing big skies. Renowned for its iconic white horses carved into the rolling chalk downs, almost half of our breathtaking landscape falls within an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty and there are numerous ways to enjoy this quintessentially English countryside, from walking, cycling and horse-riding to fishing, golf, canal boat trips and more.

With over 10,000 years of history Wiltshire has more than its fair share of amazing attractions. On the 'must see' list alongside the medieval city of Salisbury with its magnificent cathedral are the Stonehenge and Avebury World Heritage Site, Longleat Safari & Adventure Park and the National Trust's garden at Stourhead. Other 'big names' include the stately homes and gardens at Bowood and Wilton, and modern-day attractions such as Castle Combe motor racing circuit, Salisbury Racecourse and Wiltshire Music Centre.

You can explore our industrial heritage at Wadworth Brewery, Crofton Beam Engines and Wilton Windmill, STEAM Museum or Swindon & Cricklade Railway; discover bison, butterflies and farmyard favourites; or uncover Wiltshire's unparalleled archaeology in our fascinating museums. For in-depth knowledge you can't beat a tour from one of our specialist guides.

Relax with friends and family while sampling traditional Wiltshire specialities at tea shops, pubs and restaurants around the county. Enjoy a little retail therapy at the designer and factory outlets in Swindon or Wilton, where the past meets the present in their historic buildings. Or browse the many independent retailers to be found in our charming market towns, uncovering interesting and individual items you won't find on every high street. These towns also offer a wide variety of nightlife, with the city of Salisbury holding Purple Flag status – the 'gold standard' for a great night out.

Wiltshire is a beautiful and diverse county with a thriving arts scene covering theatres, cinemas, arts centres and more. Throughout 2015 it will also host a huge range of exciting festivals and events, from music and dance to comedy and crafts – see visitwiltshire.co.uk/whats-on for further details.

Only an hour and a half, or less, from London, Wiltshire is peaceful, relaxed and unhurried; the perfect antidote to our overcrowded cities. Here, you can press pause and let time stand still. So make 2015 the year you come and see us, to write your chapter in Wiltshire's never ending story.

If you are looking for a great place to stay, pick up a copy of the 2015 Wiltshire Accommodation – Stay, Discover, Explore guide from one of the Information Centres listed on page 58 or go to our website: visitwiltshire.co.uk

1215 – 2015

800 Years of Magna Carta

MAGNA CARTA EXHIBITION, SALISBURY (ARTIST'S IMPRESSION)

KING JOHN SIGNING MAGNA CARTA, SALISBURY CATHEDRAL

In June 1215, at the instigation of 25 barons from across England, Magna Carta was signed at Runnymede by King John. Who could have imagined that eight centuries later this 'great charter' would still be helping to shape the law in countries around the world.

Step inside the Chapter House at Salisbury's magnificent Gothic cathedral and you can see for yourself the best preserved of only four remaining original 1215 Magna Carta manuscripts, displayed in a spectacular medieval setting. A major exhibition opening in March 2015 will explain the historic context behind Magna Carta and show how it remains as relevant as ever today.

Trowbridge, Wiltshire's county town, is also linked to Magna Carta as it was the headquarters of Henry de Bohun, one of only two barons from the West Country. He is pictured in a stained glass window at St James' Church, holding a copy of the Charter.

A wide range of Magna Carta themed events will take place in Salisbury, Trowbridge and Wiltshire during the course of 2015. These include contemporary art installations, a Barons' Trail, musical performances, specially commissioned theatre, family activities, a flower festival and a medieval Charter Fayre.

Magna Carta Events:

Ageas Salisbury International Arts Festival

Wednesday 27-Saturday 30 May: Shakespeare's Globe Theatre presents King John

Salisbury

March-September (selected dates): Salisbury City Guides' Magna Carta Walks

Mid June-Early September: Barons' Trail

Salisbury Cathedral

Opens March: Magna Carta Exhibition

June-September: Enlightenment and The Power of Words – interactive lighting projections

Saturday 13-Sunday 14 June: Gala Weekend

Wednesday 15-Saturday 18 July: Southern Cathedrals' Festival

Tuesday 15-Sunday 20 September: 'Magna Flora' Flower Festival

Salisbury Playhouse

Saturday 20 & Sunday 21 June: Members of Stage '65, Salisbury Playhouse's youth theatre, will perform a new, specially written play at Salisbury Cathedral exploring the themes of Magna Carta. Younger members of Stage '65 will also be involved, performing an interactive piece of theatre in the Cathedral Close.

Autumn: Salisbury Playhouse will be staging The Magna Carta Plays, specially written by four leading British playwrights. Taking inspiration from Magna Carta, they illustrate how the principals laid out in this celebrated document still influence the civilised world.

Trowbridge

Saturday 28 February-Saturday 25 July: The Magna Carta & Trowbridge Exhibition

Saturday 25 April: King John and Magna Carta England Conference, the reality behind the myth

Sunday 14 June: Ringing of the 12 bells and service, Parish Church of St James

From June: Trowbridge in Bloom: floral displays throughout the town

July: Trowbridge in Bloom: Flower Festival at St James' Church

Friday 24-Sunday 26 July: Magna Carta Extravaganza

AVEBURY

ATTRactions & PLACES TO VISIT

Shrouded in mystery, steeped in legend, it's easy to understand why the ancient Britons believed Wiltshire was special, and to this day the Stonehenge and Avebury World Heritage Site remains a magnet for people from around the world.

But history in Wiltshire is not just ancient; here you can wander through time. The Romans, Normans and Saxons have all left their mark and medieval Salisbury Cathedral is home to the charter which helped shape the law in England and beyond – Magna Carta.

Elsewhere you can visit manor houses, gardens, castles and churches; enjoy close encounters with animals of all shapes and sizes; take advantage of discounts at designer and factory outlets; unearth the secrets of the past at one of our many museums; or enjoy modern-day attractions such as motor and horse racing.

AMESBURY

Historic Amesbury - the Home of Stonehenge

Amesbury is the town where history and Stonehenge began, the oldest continuous settlement in Britain. Start your visit with refreshments at Solstice Park and meet the mighty Ancestor representing the earliest settlers in Amesbury around 10,000 years ago. Not far away at Archers Gate you can see the town's rich heritage depicted through a community mosaic, along with an impressive recreation of the famous Amesbury Archer – found nearby. The town centre welcomes visitors with many independent and unique shops, two coach friendly bays and free parking close to the Community and Visitor Centre (open Monday-Saturday) with information on places to visit, shop, eat, drink and stay.

Wednesday is market day. The History Centre in Church Street (opening times vary), is where the story of Stonehenge is told and home to one of the country's largest collections of Mesolithic tools. The 10th century church of St Mary and St Melor is Amesbury's oldest building and houses a 1777 organ, 15th century clock, crusader crosses and royal floor tiles and tells the story of Queen Eleanor of Provence, who was given a royal funeral in Amesbury in 1291. Famous hostellers include the Antrobus Arms where The Beatles stayed whilst filming Help on Salisbury Plain and the 13th century George Hotel which houses Amesbury's Aviation Heritage History Centre.

BRADFORD ON AVON

Bradford on Avon is one of Wiltshire's jewels. A stunning town developed as a centre for textiles, which shapes the town today. On the edge of the Cotswolds and only eight minutes from Bath by train, it makes a wonderful base for visitors to take in the surrounding villages and nearby attractions.

As well as fine examples of architecture from the Saxon, Medieval, Tudor, Georgian and Industrial Revolution periods, must-sees include the ancient Town Bridge and Lock-up, the Saxon Church, the Tithe Barn, the Museum and the Victorian chapel of St Mary Tery and Mills. And don't miss Barton Farm Country Park with its ancient Packhorse Bridge, all bordered by the famous Kennet & Avon Canal.

Enjoy a unique shopping experience by visiting the many lovely shops and restaurants throughout the town, renowned for their independent and personal service. Picnic in Westbury Gardens or by the canal. Call into the Tourist Information Centre to find out about events such as Secret Gardens and the Festivals of Walking and Christmas. Bradford on Avon – a visit to remember.

The Tourist Information Centre is expecting to relocate during 2015, so please check contact details before visiting it.

CALNE

No visit to Wiltshire is complete without spending time in Calne. Our friendly historic town is the place where the traditional English technique of curing ham and bacon – the Wiltshire Cure – was invented by the Harris family. The factory is no longer here, but Calne is proud of this part of its history.

For a small town Calne packs in a lot of history, from medieval times and the Industrial Revolution, through to the present day. It's a story of drovers' trails and coach roads, the rise and fall of canal and rail travel, woollen broadcloth and meat production. Visit our heritage quarter, concentrated around St Mary's Church, to experience each chapter of our past.

Calne has always been a town of discovery. Joseph Priestley 'discovered' oxygen here whilst working at nearby Bowood House, and shortly after Jan Ingenhousz built on the work of Priestley and 'discovered' photosynthesis.

Nowadays Calne is a great place from which to discover the timeless wonders of Wiltshire. We are situated on the edge of the North Wessex Downs, an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, where you will find Cherhill's white horse. On our doorstep is magnificent Bowood, home to one of Capability Brown's most splendid parks, and nearby is Avebury, part of the same World Heritage Site as iconic Stonehenge.

With independent shops and cafés, a Heritage Centre, the delightful Castlefields Canal and River Park and Atwell-Wilson Motor Museum, Calne is a great place to take a break and parking in the town is free.

Visit Calne today and see what you can discover.

CASTLE COMBE

Historic Chippenham is one of the West Country's most dynamic towns. Nestled on the banks of the River Avon it lies between the Marlborough Downs to the east, the Cotswolds to the north and west and Salisbury Plain to the south. Chippenham is four miles south of the M4 and on the mainline rail route from London Paddington to the West Country.

Surrounding the town are a number of stone-built villages and the film makers' favourites of Lacock (National Trust), Biddestone and Castle Combe. The great houses and art treasures of Longleat, Bowood, Corsham Court, Lacock Abbey and Dyrham Park are within easy reach, as is Castle Combe Racing Circuit.

The Wiltshire & Swindon History Centre and the accredited Chippenham Museum & Heritage Centre are also located here.

The blend of the old and the new, historic architectural gems, excellent communication links, beautifully maintained parks, modern shopping centres and proximity to some of Wiltshire's greatest houses and historic villages makes this town an idyllic location for living, working and visiting.

CORSHAM

Set on the fringe of the Cotswold hills, between Chippenham and Bath, is the historic market town of Corsham.

The High Street, with its Bath stone buildings (many of which are now independent shops) is bound at one end by stately Corsham Court – with its stunning art collection and fabulous walks through the grounds – and, at the other, by the 400-year-old Almshouses. Both are popular with visitors.

Another prominent cultural attraction in Corsham is The Pound Arts Centre, a thriving venue offering a year-round programme of performances, films and exhibitions. Add to this the Martingate Shopping Centre, the weekly Tuesday market and a variety of events and festivals throughout the year, and you have a town that is well worth a visit. And don't be surprised to come across a peacock strolling down the High Street. They are Corsham's most colourful residents.

CRICKLADE

Cricklade – the first town on the Thames – is the southern gateway to the Cotswold Water Park. Built by Alfred the Great as a defence against the Danes it is the best preserved example of a Saxon new town. The town's layout follows the pattern of ancient burgrave plots and there are over 100 listed buildings, plus free parking, two historic churches, a famous Jubilee Clock and the 2012 Jubilee Mosaic. Its wide High Street has some interesting speciality shops and a number of welcoming pubs and hotels, one with its own microbrewery. A Heritage Trail explains key features through a series of interpretation boards. The North Meadow Nature Reserve is one of the finest examples of a lowland hay meadow famous for Snakeshead Fritillaries and other wildflowers.

MARLBOROUGH

Situated in the picturesque rural northeast of Wiltshire, Marlborough prides itself on offering its visitors a unique blend of attractions and facilities. Originating from a Saxon settlement, it grew into a handsome old staging post and today is a stylish and cosmopolitan town with its own brand of chic café culture.

Marlborough is famous for its charming High Street, one of the widest in Europe, which is the site of a twice-weekly market as well as a monthly community market selling local produce. The High Street is lined on both sides with characterful old buildings housing an array of high quality shops and at its top end sits the magnificent and historic Town Hall. It is also home to The Merchant's House, one of the finest 17th century homes open to visitors in England.

Among Marlborough's many claims to fame is the mysterious Merlin's Mount which can be found within the grounds of Marlborough College and is the reputed burial place of the wizard Merlin. The annual International Jazz Festival takes place over one weekend every July at venues around the town and is a popular event for local residents and visitors alike. The traditional Mop Fairs held in October always bring in the crowds. Another draw is the annual Marlborough Literature Festival, an increasingly important event with something interesting for all ages.

In a beautiful pocket of rural Wiltshire, the lovely market town of Melksham is situated on the River Avon, near the historic villages of Lacock and Castle Combe. The friendly town centre is full of independent shops, cafés, pubs and restaurants, with a regular Tuesday market. Compact and easily accessible, Melksham's library, gym, pool and parks are all a short walk from the centre.

Melksham's vibrant community spirit ensures a busy calendar of events, including the Food Festival, Carnival, Party in the Park and Comic Convention. The popular Christmas Fayre features the switching on of the Melksham Christmas lights, a spectacular display put on entirely by volunteers.

The Kennet & Avon Canal offers great bike rides and walks, while Conigre Mead Nature Reserve, home to dragonflies, butterflies and the occasional kingfisher, is a few minutes' walk along the River Avon.

Melksham makes an ideal base for visitors seeking reasonable, inexpensive accommodation and good eating-out facilities. Several bus routes serve the town, including the National Express from London, while trains from Melksham connect to Bristol, London and Swindon. With its accessibility and friendly welcome, you are sure to have an enjoyable and memorable time in Melksham.

TIDWORTH

Surrounded by beautiful countryside Tidworth is situated on the A338 close to the Wiltshire/Hampshire border, with an excellent bus service from Salisbury to Andover every 15 minutes.

To the north west of Tidworth you will find the Iron Age earthworks of Sidbury Hill. Also known as Sidbury Camp, it is believed to have been the site of a Neolithic settlement and covers an area of around 17 acres.

Within the town you can visit St Mary's Mortuary Chapel, dating from 1870, and the Norman Church of Holy Trinity. Although the earliest reference to Holy Trinity is from the late 13th century, it may date back even earlier. Rebuilt in the 15th century it contains a number of historic features, including a 12th century font.

Tidworth is also home to thatched cottages, the Hampshire Cross and Tedworth House (now more commonly known as the home for Help for Heroes).

Set in the grounds of Tedworth Park, Tidworth Polo Club is one of the oldest polo clubs in the country. Other local places of note include Tidworth Garrison Golf Club, with its first class downland golf course, and Trinity House which is associated with The Tidworth Drummer, a 17th century poltergeist.

Tidworth is within easy driving distance of medieval Salisbury and historic Marlborough, as well as attractions such as the Kennet & Avon Canal, Avebury and Stonehenge.

Those 'in the know' were not surprised when, in 2014, Tisbury was voted the 2nd best place to live in England. Surrounded by magnificent scenery and served by its own main line railway station, just 15 minutes from Salisbury, Tisbury is Wiltshire's best kept secret. Enjoy walking the superb network of footpaths, or ride or cycle further afield via ancient bridleways and drove roads. The Wessex Way runs close by, accessed via footpaths directly from the station. Discover picturesque villages with quaint old English pubs and traditional parish churches; visit Old Wardour Castle or the magnificent Tithe Barn at Place Farm. This vibrant community features unique, award-winning High Street shops, a bustling tea shop, heated open-air swimming pool and an amazing yew tree, reputed to be as old as Stonehenge itself.

TROWBRIDGE

Trowbridge has a rich and varied past. It was home to Henry de Bohun, one of only 25 Magna Carta Barons who forced King John to sign the Magna Carta in 1215. Trowbridge was a caput or the headquarters of a Magna Carta Baron, one of only two in the whole of the West Country. Discover our celebratory events in 2015.

Archaeological evidence indicates that Trowbridge has been a centre for weaving for over a thousand years. High quality West of England cloth supplied the Empress of Russia, Mary Quant and Queen Elizabeth II. Trowbridge Museum contains a regionally significant collection relating to West of England woollen cloth production and in addition, the industry's legacy, according to English Heritage is: 'a quite exceptional chronological range for industrial buildings in a town centre'.

Trowbridge has a vibrant arts and cultural scene and this is reflected in its annual Arts Festival and biennial Cloth Road and West of England Festival of Textiles. A top venue for major events is the Civic Centre which is adjacent to the multi-screen ODEON and fine town park.

In December the town goes green hosting a Dickensian Christmas Experience, with its unique Father Christmas dressed in green velvet. Children receive a traditional wooden toy and sepia effect Victorian photograph of their encounter with Father Christmas. In addition the Museum holds a Christmas exhibition with traditional craft activities and there is a high quality Victorian street market.

CLOTH ROAD ART TRAIL

VALE OF PEWSEY ➡

Saxon Perforisigge formed the heart of King Alfred's estates, but the Vale's history goes back much further, with archaeology suggesting settlements in the Vale from 3000BC. The Vale stretches from East Grafton in the east to Devizes in the west, and has as its life blood the Kennet & Avon Canal linking attractions such as Wilton Windmill and Crofton Beam Engines, the village of Pewsey, and White Horse carvings in the surrounding downland with paragliding, walking, riding, canoeing and barge trips along the way.

Visit Pewsey during September and take part in the oldest carnival in Wiltshire. Visit Pewsey during the summer and see ethereal crop circles. Visit Pewsey Vale at all times of the year and enjoy fishing at Manningford, riding at Stanton St Bernard and canal trips from Pewsey Wharf.

So step into a different world and experience ancient landscapes, real history and modern activity-based holidays.

There is a mainline railway station at Pewsey with services to London and West Country, with local services from Great Bedwyn.

WARMINSTER

Warminster is a warm, friendly and beautiful market town, first settled in the Saxon period. It has many fine Georgian buildings all set within beautiful rolling chalk and greensand hills. The town has a wide variety of independent shops and a number of pleasant cafés, numerous restaurants and many historic inns. Fine antiques and quality furniture in Silver Street are a particular attraction. Market day is Friday.

The town has excellent road, rail and bus links, and ample car parking. Bath and Salisbury are within very easy reach. Major local attractions are Longleat House and its Safari Park, and Stourhead House with its famous lake and gardens. A Center Parcs is also close by.

The beautiful surrounding countryside provides fantastic opportunities for walking, cycling and riding. There are also outstanding country pubs and B&Bs where a great welcome and excellent eating are the order of the day. For the young there is the Lake Pleasure Grounds in the centre of town with tennis courts, a refreshment kiosk, bandstand, boating lake, children's playground and a skateboard park.

WESTBURY

The small market town of Westbury is situated on the western edge of Salisbury Plain. Once a hub of the woollen trade, it is now a lively town with a mix of shops, hotels, restaurants and tea rooms. To the east of the town lies the famous landmark of Westbury White Horse, which is the oldest of its kind in Wiltshire and reputed to have been first created in 878; the current shape dates from the 1770s.

Set within a picturesque landscape, Westbury is surrounded by Wiltshire's glorious countryside offering good access for picnics, walking, pony trekking, kite flying, hang gliding and para gliding.

Within Westbury, the Market Place is a charming old square formed by some of the oldest buildings in the town. Next to the historic Lopes Arms Hotel is the entrance to the 14th century All Saints Church with the third heaviest peal of eight bells in the world and an Erasmus Bible. Walk on through to Church Street to find one of the oldest operational Victorian swimming baths in the country.

VILLAGE PUMP FOLK FESTIVAL

One of the UK's best renowned festivals, held in the breathtaking setting of the White Horse Country Park, Westbury, Wiltshire. This year it is headlined by Show of Hands, Oysterband, Treacherous Orchestra and Barbara Dickson appearing with Rab Noakes. With the very best in international food and drink, activities and entertainment, this is a wonderful family event with a musical soundtrack to die for. Festival patron Steve Knightley (Show of Hands) says "The Village Pump was the first major festival that Show of Hands cracked. Earthy, West Country, boozey and friendly it remains one of the highlights of our summer. Beneath the gaze of the ancient white horse and spread over acres of rolling parkland I can't think of a better way of spending a summer's weekend!"

WILTON

THE ITALIANATE CHURCH

OLD ST MARY'S CHURCH RUIN

Wilton is the ancient capital of Wessex, a quintessential English market town three miles west of Salisbury, with a history spanning more than 2,000 years. It gave its name to Wiltshire and to the famous Wilton Carpets, which are still made here today. Market day is on Thursday and a Country Market is held on Fridays. With free parking, you have easy access to the wide range of traditional family-owned shops, pubs, cafés and other services. A short walk from the Market Square and the Old St Mary's Church Ruin is the famous Italianate Church and a delightful river walk along the Wylde. Wilton House and the Wilton Shopping Village can also be explored. An annual Carnival is held at the beginning of July.

STONEHENGE

GUIDED TOURS & TRANSPORT

Wiltshire is full of fascinating places and captivating stories that have shaped the history of England.

To make the most of your time here why not team up with a local guide who can offer you an authentic and individual experience by sharing their detailed knowledge and enthusiasm of the area. By bringing tales of mystery, myth and legend to life they will help you to discover a treasure trove of attractions both ancient and modern.

Walking tours, coach tours and car tours are all on offer, either in English or a range of foreign languages. Many of our tour guides are holders of the Blue Badge – the highest guiding qualification in Britain – and whatever your requirements we have specialist companies available who will be happy to tailor an itinerary to suit your individual needs.

ACTIVITIES

If you're tired of the everyday, then it's time for Wiltshire! Almost half the county falls within an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty. At times gentle, at times wild, it ranges from the untamed plateau of Salisbury Plain to peaceful Cotswold hills, from the undulating swathe of Cranborne Chase to the chalk uplands of the North Wessex Downs, with acres of ancient woodland in the Savernake Forest and on the borders of the New Forest National Park.

To make the most of Wiltshire and its breathtaking countryside, try a day's trout fishing, a canal boat trip or a round of golf; a hot air balloon ride, a treasure trail or a tandem skydive; an off road driving experience, a real-life adventure escape game or an exciting range of cookery courses. Enjoy stunning views of the landscape from horseback; hire a bike and re-discover the thrill of cycling around uncrowded country lanes; or let our walking specialists provide you with a tailored, self-guided itinerary.

In Wiltshire you can be as energetic (or otherwise) as you wish!

TIMELESS PLEASURES

OLD SARUM

Easy to explore, yet off the beaten track, Wiltshire is one of Britain's best kept secrets. Almost half of the county's landscape falls within an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, making it perfect for outdoor pursuits – at the last count we had over 8,200 paths for walkers and cyclists, as well as bridleways, rivers, lakes and canals.

In Wiltshire you feel close to the land and the sky. The countryside alters with the changing seasons, connecting you not just to nature but to time itself. Sit on the downs at sunrise or sunset and see how the light changes the texture of the hills, then think of our ancestors admiring the same spectacle down the centuries. In Wiltshire you can truly touch the past.

Wiltshire is blessed with an outstanding array of walks that can comfortably be accomplished within half a day, leaving ample time for a welcome pub lunch. You'll also find plenty of challenging longer routes – tackle their entire length over several days, or cherry pick the sections that suit you best. Ramble on the Ridgeway or rumble through our market towns... stroll along the towpath of the Kennet and Avon Canal... walk in the footsteps of the ancient drovers... sturdy shoes recommended.

Whether you are a seasoned expert, an enthusiastic amateur, or just starting out you'll find plenty of cycle routes to suit your level of ability. These range from short hops to long-distance trails and include one of several National Cycle Routes and part of the National Byway. Whichever one you follow, you'll find new stories around every corner... and there's a range of exciting cycling events throughout the year to watch or take part in too, such as Cycle Wiltshire in May and the Wiltshire 100 and Big Wheel Bike Ride in September.

Wiltshire is calming, comforting, refreshing. A weekend here will help put back what the rest of the week takes out. So at the end of a hectic few days, breathe a deep sigh of relief and head on over. A wide range of walker and cyclist-friendly accommodation can be found in the 2015 Wiltshire Stay, Discover, Explore guide, as well as on our website.

Details of walking and cycling routes around Wiltshire, as well as a wide range of other outdoor activities, can be found on visitwiltshire.co.uk/outdoor-activities and there's additional information on walking Wiltshire's white horses on whitehorsewalk.co.uk

For an excellent range of maps and brochures to help you on your way contact one of the Information Centres listed on page 58. Alternatively, maps and routes for cyclists and walkers can be downloaded from the Connecting Wiltshire website: connectingwiltshire.co.uk
